
Title: Laboratory text : Stone to Flesh Vol II

Author: Smogg Azalin

Day 9.

From herbs and fruit to animals. I need a strong symbol of agriculture. A pitchfork will most likely be the best choise. I will send members to find me
the strongest magic
pitchfork possible...
Krakan is leading the expedition. Hopefully
he will return with
one tomorrow.

Day 10.

Dorillion and Dragoon
have found sick or mutated animals in Rivendell. I studied
the meet from a bird
and have found traces of the alloy. A clear sign that my
experiment there is working. Combined with the Rotgut Booze
there should be a
ready victim when needed.

Assuming Krakan
succeeded, I will send people for the next component today. Meet
of the most magical
kind. I believe dragon
meet will be the best choise.

Almaus led a small
expedition to obtain Dragon Meat. It was succesfull.

Day 11.

Two components remain. Obviously the last compenent cannot be gathered yet. I will put it off until the very end. The other though, being an instrument used for cutting and preparing meat should be retrieved today. If everything goes as planned I can begin researching the words of power by tomorrow.

A cleaver with the most infernal properties should be found today. Hylhoth would be the best choice of location. My cultists best succeed. Day 12.

Entire day spend in my own libraries. The are not sufficient but will do for now.

I have made some basic research on the words and gestures.

Day 13.

The gestures are connected to Wild magic.

However my libraries do not cover this sufficiently. I will need to study the library of the ice fiend in Ice Dungeon.

Rathgith's master must surely have books about this....

The expedition went smooth. I recovered three books on wild magic and gestures.

Day 14.

My days of intense research have taken some toll in the cult. I will need to punish members harder and watch them more carefully.

It seems the nature of the gargoyles will be useful in my research. Their gestures hold the very nature of moving stone. I will need to study their movement

further today.

Hylhoth will most likely be the best place
to do observations...

... The trip went somewhat well. I got the information I
needed but many died.
Day 15.

The gestures seem to be of the right nature.

I can start working on the words of power.

There are plenty of places to search.

I might want to search
the libraries and
laboratories of Castle Britannia...

Great changes within the cult. What will be the result of this? It is worth to research
further.

Why do member defy
my wishes. This cannot go on. If only there were a way to control them better,
then this would not
have happened.

I need to repair the situation or all my research would serve
no purpose. Why paint
a picture with no one worthy to see it. Why play the harp if the tunes will never reach
the one you play for.

Day 16.

Internal struggles has been settled.

Futhermore I have identified the key to the spell. A powerful word of power for stone. This word
